

Fall Science Update
WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 2009

The Fall Science Update is sponsored by the Regional Math and Science Center at GVSU and it is a fall mini-conference for area K-12 educators. This year celebrates our 25th anniversary and the theme is "Building Enduring Understandings in Science." It will be held on the 2nd floor Eberhard Center, GVSU Grand Rapids Pew Campus. Teachers, administrators, and pre-service teachers are all welcome to attend.

We are in need of volunteers from the GVSU student community to help us with this event. We will be using volunteers in a variety of ways including morning registration, assisting presenters with set-up for their event, passing out and collecting evaluations, clean-up etc.

Volunteers are needed in two-hour increments from 7:00 am – 4:00 pm on the day of the event (Wednesday, November 18, 2009). You may volunteer to assist during any two-hour time block during the day as your schedule allows. Your admission to the program, continental breakfast and lunch will be free of charge. At the completion of the event and at your request, we will provide you with documentation of your participation for your portfolio.

If you are interested in helping us with this event, please fill out and return the attached Volunteer Form no later than Monday, November 9, 2009. Questions that you may have concerning this event may be directed to:
