LAS 210: Exploring Latin America
Professor Michael Huner | Monday/Wednesday | 1:30-2:45 pm | ASH 1301
An interdisciplinary introduction to the field of Latin American studies in which students learn about the histories and cultures of this diverse region, its varied paths of political and economic development, its relations with the United States, and Latin American migration that has made the Latino/a population the largest minority group in the US. A required core course for the LAS Minor and fulfills General Education’s Social and Behavioral Sciences Foundation and World Perspectives requirements.

LAS 220: Intro to Latino/a Studies
Professor Andrew Schleowitz | Tuesday/Thursday | 10:00-11:15 am | CON 214
An interdisciplinary introduction to the diversity and complexity of the US Latino/a population, with attention to intra-ethnic and interracial relations, formation of social identities, and issues of assimilation and cultural conflict. This counts towards a LAS Minor and Latino/a Studies Certificate and is a Social and Behavioral Science Foundation and US Diversity course.

LAS 325: Human Rights in Latin America
Professor Andrew Schleowitz | Tuesday/Thursday | 1:00-2:15 pm | ASH 2121
An interdisciplinary introduction to the diversity and complexity of the US Latino/a population, with attention to intra-ethnic and interracial relations, formation of social identities, and issues of assimilation and cultural conflict. This counts towards a LAS Minor and Latino/a Studies Certificate and is a Social and Behavioral Science Foundation and US Diversity course.

LAS/CFV 376: Latin American Cinema
Professor Toni Perrine | Tuesday/Thursday | 11:30-12:45 pm | KHS 1173
In this course, students will view representative films as works of art and examine them as cultural, historical, political, and economic products that characterize and reveal diverse perspectives on Latin America.

Latin American and Latino/a Studies
The interdisciplinary exploration of the many peoples, economies, cultures, geographies, politics and societies of Latin America.

FALL 2016
For more information on the Latin American and Latino/a Studies Program at GVSU, please contact the Professor-David Stark, LAS coordinator at starkd@gvsu.edu or the area studies office at 331-8110 or areastudies@gvsu.edu. Gracias!