

Online Section 01
Spring 2023

SYLLABUS

Dr. Lawrence (Larry & Emma!) Burns, 2219 ASH, 331-2862, Email burnsl@gvsu.edu

Office Hours: I look forward to meeting and talking with you this semester. I will always be pleased to meet with you for virtual office hours. Simply send me an email so we can arrange an appointment.

Required MindTap Access: MindTap Psychology, 1 term (6 months) Printed Access Card, Enhanced for Hergenhahn's An Introduction to the History of Psychology, 8th Edition Tracy Henley 978-1-337-56415-1. Available at the University Bookstore.

Course Objectives: This course is intended to provide systematic historical coverage of the theoretical foundations of psychology for advanced undergraduate students. Introductory Psychology, PSY 101, and Research Methods, PSY 300 are prerequisites for taking this course. By means of e-modules, quizzes, reflective journaling, and associated readings, an introduction to the contributions of the major schools of psychology and the influence of related areas will be emphasized.

Class Format: Although this is an online class, I encourage you to use the virtual office hours for any questions you might have about anything: the course, how to apply to graduate school, asking about differences in degrees and grad schools, etc.! I look forward to getting to know you through your (roughly) weekly journaling. I will write you back (roughly) every week!

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

1. Describe basic issues in the history and philosophy of science (e.g., how does scientific knowledge grow in any particular discipline? What is the logic of scientific theory testing?)
2. Describe broader theoretical issues related to the history and philosophy of science (e.g., the ontological problem and consciousness).
3. Explain early psychological thought and scholarship.
4. Explain and differentiate between the major schools of thought in psychology.

Grading: Your final grade will be based on: 73 Section Review quizzes, 13 Chapter quizzes, and 13 Mastery Training modules, and 5 Reflection and Question journal entries.

Thus, the maximum number of points you can gain for all: is 805 points.

You are guaranteed the following grade based on your total score:

→ Weekly Reflections and Questions (10 Points) due (roughly) every Monday by 11:59 p.m.

Please share your reflections on each week’s material—a minimum of 150 and a maximum of approximately 250 words.

What made sense in this weekly section? What didn’t? Have you encountered examples of this week’s information in your personal or professional life? Other classes? Does thinking about it prompt new thoughts, questions, or ideas on the covered topics? What caused you to wonder? Did you have a favorite theory or theorist? Can you apply any of what you’ve learned to other life situations?

Through this graded weekly journal activity, I aim to encourage you to reflect on new knowledge learned in class, solidify your learning experience by recording your evolving thought process as you progress further in the course, learn new material, and form new conclusions. It can also teach you to formulate new opinions and perspectives and gives you a risk-free venue to explore, think, and practice skills learned in class. Students who write regularly in a journal consistently see improvements in their writing skills and their creative and reflective thinking (Stevens & Cooper, 2009, p. 15-16, 33 as cited in Van Walraven, 2017).

You will only be evaluated on content, not form, spelling, or grammar.

Essays delivered after 11:59 p.m. on Monday, e.g., Tuesday @ 12:01 a.m., are late = lose 3 points (after 48 hours, I cannot accept submissions).

Please do not delay! (You may feel free to post them to Bb on Sundays if you like.)

→ Please enter these directly into Bb (see Assignment Button)—please do not use an attachment! Thank you!
