Todd Robinson is a specialist in African-American history. The author of A City Within a City, Todd's work has been called "a must read" by Grand Rapids Mayor Rosalyn Bliss. Please join us as he connects themes detailed in the 2015-2016 Community Reading Project Claudia Rankine's Citizen to our local history, underscoring what we can learn from the history of racism, segregation, and black freedom struggle in Grand Rapids.

Facilitator: Louis Moore, coordinator of African American Studies
