Position Title: Assistant Professor of Mathematics

Required Qualifications and Education: Ph.D. in Mathematics expected by August 2016. Candidates with a Ph.D. in Mathematics Education with a strong mathematics background and demonstrated ability to teach upper-level mathematics courses will also be considered. Dedication to excellence in teaching undergraduate mathematics; commitment to continued scholarly and professional growth; evidence of reflective thinking about the teaching and learning of mathematics at the undergraduate level; willingness to facilitate student use of technology to promote understanding of mathematics; interest in teaching courses throughout the mathematics curriculum, including precalculus mathematics courses; and strong teaching recommendations.

Preferred Qualifications and Education: Interest in the innovative use of technology in teaching mathematics and in supervising undergraduate student research.

Responsibilities – Essential Functions: Duties each semester include a baseline 9 credit hour teaching load, baseline scholarship and service, and a significant focus (equivalent to 3 credit hours) of additional responsibilities in teaching, scholarship, and/or service depending on the candidate’s interests and unit’s needs. Newly hired faculty are normally expected to use their 3 credit hours of significant focus for scholarship. Department faculty are expected to teach courses throughout the curriculum, to continually develop and grow as teachers, to maintain an active program of scholarship (broadly defined), and to participate actively in the life of the department. Employment begins August 2016.

Salary: Competitive and commensurate with qualifications.
