Writing Across the Discipline – CJ380-01(CRN 26008)

New Class for Fall 2017 – Thursdays 6:00 to 8:50 p.m.

This course is designed to help criminal justice students develop the necessary writing skills specific to the criminal justice field. The course focuses on clear and concise writing techniques that criminal justice professionals utilize on a daily basis. Further, this course will feature guest lecturers who will provide case specific scenarios and provide feedback as appropriate.

Course activities will include report writing from the perspective of state and federal law enforcement, probation/parole officers, private security officers, and other in-class activities.

Students will have the opportunity to defend one of their reports by undergoing cross-examination by a criminal defense attorney at the end of the course.
