

A preliminary announcement for

MATH IN ACTION

"Mathematical Literacy for All, Adapting to Changing Expectations"

Thursday, February 22, 2007

8:30 am - 3:00 pm

The Eberhard Center on the Robert C. Pew Campus of Grand Valley State University, Grand Rapids, MI

This year's Math in Action conference, centered around the theme "Mathematical Literacy for All, Adapting to Changing Expectations," will be of interest to teachers of mathematics at all grades levels K-12. We are honored to have Judy Wheeler, the current president of the Michigan Council of Teachers of Mathematics, as our keynote speaker. Judy's address is entitled "Oh, the Places You'll Go When You Accept the Challenge of PUFM." In addition to the keynote address, the day's schedule features four sets of concurrent, interactive sessions which will highlight practical suggestions and activities in line with current recommendations for the teaching and learning of K-12 mathematics.

For more information, visit us on the web at <http://www.gvsu.edu/math/MathInAction>

Call for Speakers: Interested speakers are invited to submit abstracts through Oct 15th. Detailed information for speakers, together with a speaker proposal form, is available online at the web address given above.

Future Mailing: A brochure announcing the full program for the conference will be distributed to area teachers and teacher educators in early January 2007. To get on our mailing list, please contact the co-organizers listed below.

Questions? Contact Steve Blair (blairst@gvsu.edu) or Jon Hodge (hodgejo@gvsu.edu) at Grand Valley State University.