G. Undergraduate Certificate Program Criteria and Guidelines

- 1. Purpose: A certificate is awarded in recognition of completion of a well-defined program of coursework that falls within existing units at Grand Valley for a specified purpose that could not simply be achieved by obtaining a transcript. A certificate is not defined as a degree by the University; rather, it is a focused collection of courses that, when completed, affords the student some record of coherent academic accomplishment in a given discipline or set of related disciplines. Furthermore, certificates are available to both degree-seeking and non-degree-seeking (i.e., certificate seeking) students. Therefore, they are available to a wider range of students than a traditional major.
- 2. Criteria:
- a. Certificate programs may be either freestanding or as add-ons to existing degree programs.
- b. The number of courses (credits) required for completion of a certificate program may vary from certificate to certificate.
- c. A limited number of new courses may be added for certificate programs.
- d. Minimum standards for academic progress should be identical to those of the parent program(s). Additional standards or requirements may be imposed.
- e. The number of courses comprising the certificate program that must be completed at Grand Valley is set by the department providing the certificate program.
- g. Courses accepted for transfer as part of the certificate program must be reviewed and approved by the department providing the certificate program.

- h. Courses taken as part of a certificate program at another institution may be transferable and shall be evaluated on their own merits in keeping with standard procedures; however, certificates from other institutions are not transferable to Grand Valley.
- i. Certificate courses may be applied toward requirements for completion of a major/emphasis or degree, as determined by the unit providing the certificate program.
- 3. Procedure:
- a. Certificates are created using the New Certificate Proposal Form in the online curriculum system that is linked from the GVSU Faculty Governance website.
- b. Certificate review follows the same curriculum review process as courses and program changes.
- c. Changes to existing certificates should use the Program Change Request form.
