

STUDY ABROAD

Ghana: Literature of the Slave Trade

CAPE COAST, GHANA — This exciting program to Cape Coast, Ghana is an excellent opportunity for future teachers and students interested in the trans-Atlantic slave trade. From the tomb of “Osagyefo” Kwame Nkrumah to the art markets at the city center, students will find themselves surrounded by diverse culture as Ghana is divided into some 75 ethnic groups. Students will be based at the University of Cape Coast. In addition to taking courses, there is a service-learning component through which students will spend a minimum of 12-16 hours total in schools or literacy NGOs, sharing children’s literature of the African diaspora and learning how literature is used in Ghanaian classrooms.
