Requesting Organization: Untold Stories for People of Color

1. Title of Request: Okra-Publication
2. Name(s) of Requester(s): Breann Barge
3. Amount Requested: $575.00
4. Description of Request: My organization would like to obtain a budget to help in the publication of our magazine.

5. Discussion: USPC is requesting funds for magazine equipment. This magazine would showcase the RSO's accomplishments and display the work of student members. VP Samuels asks how often magazines would be made. They would be yearly. The magazine would be promoted in different student centers and distributed by other cultural organizations. Senator Siegrist states that an online version would be helpful to reach a wider audience. VP Samuels states that this request matches the RSO's purpose and would be beneficial to the overall campus.

Requesting Organization: Campus Lions Club

1. Title of Request: Dinner in the Dark

2. Name(s) of Requester(s): Cazmir Sarnacki

3. Amount Requested: $1,380.00

4. Description of Request: A fundraising event where speakers are invited to talk about their experiences with Leader Dogs and inform students on the benefits the visually impaired receive from the organization as a whole. We take the night to eat blindfolded as well in order to experience eating like those with visual impairments. The money we fundraise will go to Leader Dogs.

5. Discussion: Campus Lion Club is having its annual "Dinner in the Dark" event. The event is done with Leaders Dog for the Blind. The event will feature a blindfolded spaghetti dinner. The event is a fundraiser. VP Samuels states that the price per head range for this event would be around 500 to 800. Motion to adjust the food costs to $800.00 to match funding guidelines.

Motion is approved

Requesting Organization: Euphoria

1. Title of Request: Sound System for Euphoria's End of the Year On Campus Concert

2. Name(s) of Requester(s): Elijah Weekley

3. Amount Requested: $4,770.60

4. Description of Request: In order for our group to have proper sound for our final concert, we need to hire a sound company that specializes in live a cappella music production. This budget request will cover the rental of sound equipment and company specialists to produce our show on March 28th.

5. Discussion: Euphoria is requesting equipment funds for their end of the year concert. Euphoria has requested for an a cappella-specific production company. Euphoria lists their on-campus involvement throughout the year. They also describe their off-campus participation and competition. Euphoria explains that they have looked for an outside production company because the in-house production does not meet their needs. There aren't enough microphones, no sound engineer, and the equipment does not match what the RSO needs. Euphoria has not been able to perform often on-campus as there are not adequate resources. Euphoria has been actively fund-raising throughout the year for their travel requests. Eric asks if the contract is all exclusive. It is. Senator Paquet states that it makes sense to look beyond campus if GVSU cannot meet their equipment needs. VP Samuels states that this request is fitting with the aims of the board and overall student life fund.

Requesting Organization: American Cancer Society Colleges Against Cancer

1. Title of Request: Relay For Life 2020

2. Name(s) of Requester(s): Anna Organek

3. Amount Requested: $9,479.99

4. Description of Request: Every year, the GVSU Relay for Life event holds a survivor dinner before the actual event starts. We get dinner donated from local restaurants, but require refreshments and linens and such. This allows for our organization to support, recognize and honor students, staff, faculty, and those in the community that have survived cancer. Every year we also have a breakfast for those that are still at the event around 5 am (a thank-you for staying throughout the night). Each year we have inflatables to fill some of the space in the field house, and we have liability waivers so that our participants that go on the inflatables are accounted for in the documentation in case of injury, or an emergency. These will be staffed the entire event. New this year we will be hosting an up and coming country superstar, Sadie Bass! We feel this will bring a ton of energy and give support to the tone of our theme this year, "A hoedown to throw down cancer!"

5. Discussion: American Cancer Society is having its annual Relay for Life event. The event is a nonprofit fundraiser. The 12-hour event has both dinner and breakfast. The dinner is covered by donations, the breakfast is not. The RSO is also requesting for inflatables, a band, and sound system equipment. This is the first year for an off-campus performer. VP Samuels expresses concern about disproportionate funding applications. The presenters explain that this is a low cost for a full performer. The breakfast costs have been reduced from prior years. Most of the panels and workshops will be on Friday and Saturday. Friday evening there will be a reception for the Pre-law students and Saturday will end with a banquet. I believe being able to attend this conference will provide us with great networking skills as we meet other students who are interested in Pre-law, and individuals who have attended law school and are in the law profession.
