Permission to conduct research with or duplicate materials does not constitute authorization to publish them in part or in their entirety. Permission to publish or exhibit materials from Grand Valley State University Special Collections & University Archives must be requested and granted in writing on the supplied form. "Publication" includes: print or electronic/digital, including web publication, film or microfilm, and public exhibition or display.

Requests for permission to publish are considered on a case-by-case basis, and fees may be charged based on the nature of publication. Reproduction fees may also apply. Unless otherwise stipulated, publication permission is for one-time, non-exclusive use, is contingent upon receipt of applicable fees. Any subsequent use constitutes reuse and must be applied for in writing to Special Collections & University Archives.

Citation of each individual item is required. Questions about appropriate citation may be requested as needed. Exhibitions must include the credit within the exhibition area.

Preferred citation: [Collection name], Special Collections & University Archives, Grand Valley State University.

Fees

Commercial use fee                      $50 per item

Administrative fee                        $10

Other charges may apply

Unless specifically stated, Grand Valley State University does not claim ownership of the copyright on any of the materials in Special Collections. The applicant accepts all responsibility for obtaining the required permission from the holders of any rights in materials being quoted, reproduced, or published. For more information on copyright, see the University Libraries' Copyright Basics guidelines.

Please state specifically and in detail the materials, whether manuscript, print, image, audio, or moving image that you wish to publish or exhibit. Attach a separate sheet if necessary.
