

GRAND VALLEY STATE UNIVERSITY ART GALLERY

A Borderless Museum for All

GVSU holds the second largest art collection in the state of Michigan. Artwork is thoughtfully incorporated into every university building, creating a virtually borderless museum that spans all of our beautiful campuses. We believe that art-viewing experiences have the power to spark conversations, action, and reflection on core themes of social justice, human rights, and empathy that align with the university's philosophy of liberal education.

In addition to art in public spaces, the Art Gallery team curates seasonal exhibitions on wall galleries and traditional gallery spaces.

We seek to actively collaborate with community partners in the production of learning materials, experiences, and events, as well as the placement of art in public buildings. We support the interdisciplinary educational goals of the University and for the benefit of the community-at-large.
