Lessons from Flint:
A Conversation with Curt Guyette

A Sponsored by GVSU’s School of Communications and Multimedia Journalism Program

Before the Flint water crisis was international news, Curt Guyette was knocking on doors, asking the city’s residents to test their lead levels. Guyette’s combination of advocacy and investigation helped reveal a massive failure of government. Join us as Guyette talks about Flint and other topics with Dr. Eric Harvey, Assistant Professor of Multimedia Journalism.

March 29th at 4pm
Cook-Dewitt Center, GVSU Allendale Campus

For more info:
harveyer@gvsu.edu