

CAC 2023 - Hotel Recommendations in Grand Rapids and Allendale

Grand Rapids has a wide variety of hotel accommodations within a 25 minute drive of the GVSU Allendale Campus, where the CAC conference will be held on February 25, 2023. The conference planning committee has identified three hotels for conference attendees to consider as a starting point for those needing a place to stay Friday or Saturday night.. We have not reserved blocks of rooms in these locations.

- Holiday Inn (next to the GVSU Pew Campus in Grand Rapids; short walk across the famous Blue Bridge to downtown attractions)
310 Pearl ST NW
Free Off Street Parking
Restaurant that serves breakfast and lunch
About $225 for a King or two queens
- Embassy Suites near the 6th St. bridge (nice location for a good downtown GR experience)
710 Monroe Ave NW
They have an attached parking garage ($20/night)
About $200 per night
- Radisson off Ann St. (a cheaper option because it's not within walking distance to the downtown attractions)
270 Ann At. NW
Free parking
$125 –price is less because it's not close to downtown.

For completeness: There is one hotel in Allendale: The Sleep Inn & Suites, 4869 Becker Dr, about $100/night with free parking and a breakfast buffet. It is located about one mile from the GVSU Allendale campus, where the CAC conference will be held. The conference planning committee does not have direct experience with it, but we are mentioning it here as it is the closest and lowest cost option. There is a Main Street Pub restaurant within walking distance of the hotel.
