

MACRO MONDAY:

Thriving Through Change

At a glance...

Change is all around us and it can be disorienting, challenging, and emotionally draining. Yet, how your organization navigates change has the potential to bring great opportunities for growth and impact. This session will help participants explore the emotions of change and find ways to shape the path that moves an organization successfully through that change.

Objectives

1. Explore the change curve.
2. Learn a framework for managing change effectively.
3. Building skills for resilience to sustain change.

Speaker

Having worked in the philanthropic sector for over 30 years, Tamela Spicer, M.A. seeks to guide sector leaders and organizations on a path to discover how they can work within their own ecosystems to catalyze change grounded in justice and belonging. Recognizing her own privilege as a white, cis-gender woman, she intentionally works to call out and help dismantle white supremacy culture and its power in the philanthropic sector and in her own personal life.
