

ABRAHAMIC RELIGIONS

An interfaith dialogue among speakers from Judaic, Christian, and Islamic faith traditions

2:00 - 3:20 p.m.

WILBUR & SHARON LETTINGA AUDITORIUM
W.A. LETTINGA CAMPUS, DAVENPORT UNIVERSITY
ACCESS VIA LIVE-STREAM: davenport.edu/streaming

FEATURING

Muneeba Khan, marketing specialist. Favorite quote from the Quran: "Oh, mankind, We have created you male and female and appointed you races and tribes, that you may know one another."

Jaron Siegel, naturopath, designer, entrepreneur. Has traveled the world to explore Judaism and many other religions.

Tyler Silzer, former pastor in the Presbyterian Church in America and contributor to "Ethics and Religion Talk," in The Rapidian.

"Knowing how each religion reads its own book, knowing how that book plays a role in the lives of its readers, and what kind of people our books call us to be are some questions we should ask ourselves and others should ask of us."

Theme of the Discussion (Courtesy of Sam Granger)

For information, contact Dr. Terri Tomaszek ttomaszek@davenport.edu

Interfaith Dialogue Association

DIVERSITY IS