

The logo features a red circle with the white letters 'UIC' inside. To the right of the circle, the words 'MEDICINE', 'Urban Health', and 'Program' are stacked vertically in a bold, sans-serif font. 'MEDICINE' and 'Program' are in red, while 'Urban Health' is in black.

UIC MEDICINE Urban Health Program

Chicago | Peoria | Rockford | Urbana

The College of Medicine Urban Health Program (COM-UHP)

offers support by advising pre-med students on the medical school admissions process. Services are free, and involve advising, counseling, and assisting pre-medical students towards being a competitive medical school applicant and becoming a physician.

COM-UHP also offers the following for students entering the medical school application cycle:

- AMCAS Application complete review
- Personal Essay review & analysis (from drafts to final version)
- Mock interviews (only when active in the UIC Admissions cycle)
- One on One Advising Appointments

COM-UHP Advising involves general strategies how to become a competitive applicant, how to best prepare for the admissions process, the timelines when to best apply, and what pathways exist towards medical school.
