What medical degree can I earn?

M.D. = Doctor of Allopathic Medicine OR D.O. = Doctor of Osteopathic Medicine

M.D. and D.O. physicians can practice in the same specialty areas; both can practice internationally. Explore the fit of each philosophy in your preparation for medical school application.

- Nationally in 2025, there were 54,699 applicants, who averaged 16-18 applications each, for M.D. programs; 23,400 matriculated.

Prerequisites vary and schools may or may not accept AP or community college credit for prerequisites. Research to make sure that you have met the prerequisites or competencies for the medical schools to which you intend to apply. See your faculty mentor or an advisor in the CLAS Academic Advising Center for assistance in choosing elective courses. Prerequisite courses typically require a C or better grade.

MCAT

Applicants traditionally take the Medical College Admissions Test (MCAT) at least one year before starting medical school. The MCAT consists of four sections, each scored 118-132 (midpoint/50th percentile is 125):

-Chemical & Physical Foundations of Biological Systems
-Critical Analysis & Reasoning Skills
-Biological & Biochemical Foundations of Living Systems
-Psychological, Social, & Biological Foundations of Behavior

A total score will be calculated, ranging from 472 to 528 (500/501 is the midpoint/50th percentile).

The national MCAT averages for applicants matriculating to medical school fluctuate minimally from year to year.

Recently reported are:

- M.D. = 512 (84th percentile)
- D.O. = 503 (55th percentile)

GPA

To be considered for admission to medical school, a minimum cumulative collegiate GPA of 3.0 is typically required. All attempts of each course are counted in GPA calculations if a student has repeated courses.

For M.D. admission, a separate science GPA is calculated based on Biology, Chemistry, Physics, and Math (BCPM).

For D.O. admission, a separate science GPA is calculated on Biology, Chemistry, and Physics (BCP).

For both M.D. and D.O., a non-science GPA is also calculated, and trends in the GPA are considered.

The national GPA averages for applicants matriculating to medical school fluctuate minimally from year to year.

Recently reported are:

- M.D. = 3.81 overall GPA and 3.75 BCPM GPA
- D.O. = 3.62 overall GPA and 3.53 BCP GPA

Besides a strong GPA and MCAT score, medical schools do a holistic review and will heavily weigh:

- Medically related Clinical Volunteer/Work Experiences (i.e. physician shadowing, volunteering or working at local hospitals, clinics, hospices, nursing homes, etc.) as demonstration of your motivation for a career in medicine
 - See www.gvsu.edu/clasadvising/preprofessional for shadowing recommendations as well as the Healthcare Volunteering & Experience Guide

- Community service www.gvsu.edu/service
- Research experience www.gvsu.edu/ours; Departmental Websites: Listing of research by faculty member and discipline
- Strong letters of recommendation- typically, students get letters from 3 faculty (two science, one non-science) & one practicing physician (preferably one whom you have observed or has observed you in a clinical setting)
- Your ability to pass a criminal background check (CBC). Medical schools will conduct a CBC before allowing admitted students to begin medical school.
