Juvenile Justice Vision 20/20 Training Event

Keynote: Queer Criminology

Keynote Address: Thursday, October 26, 2017 9:00 a.m.—11:45 a.m.

Presented By: Dr. Carrie Buist, Assistant Professor, School of Criminal Justice, Grand Valley State University

Dr. Emily Lenning, Associate Professor, Department of Criminal Justice, Fayetteville State University

Carrie L. Buist, Ph.D., is an Assistant Professor of Criminal Justice at Grand Valley State University. She has publications in Critical Criminology: An International Journal, the Journal of Culture, Health & Sexuality, and the Journal of Crime and Justice. Dr. Buist has also published book chapters on topics from white collar crime to the social construction of gender, and LGBTQ issues. Most recently, her award-winning book, Queer Criminology coauthored with Dr. Emily Lenning calls for a more inclusive criminology exploring the experiences of the LGBTQ population as victims, offenders, and criminal legal personnel. Dr. Buist has been recognized by the American Society of Criminology Division on Women and Crime as New Scholar of the Year in November of 2015.

Emily Lenning , Ph.D., is an Associate Professor of Criminal Justice at Fayetteville State University. She is a critical Queer criminologist, whose publications cover a diverse range of topics, from state-sanctioned violence against LGBTQ folks to creative advances in pedagogy. She is co- author (with Dr. Carrie L. Buist) of the book Queer Criminology, which earned the honor of the 2016 Book Award from the American Society of Criminology Division on Critical Criminology & Social Justice. Dr. Lenning's accomplishments in and out of the classroom have been recognized by several awards, including the 2017 University of North Carolina Board of Governor's Award for Excellence in Teaching and the American Society of Criminology Division on Women & Crime's New Scholar Award.

Workshop Overview: In the keynote presentation, participants will explore the origins of Queer Criminology, survey the foundational research and scholarship in this emerging field, and offer suggestions for the future. Topics covered will include the criminalization of queerness, the policing of Queer communities, Queer experiences in the courtroom, and the correctional control of Queer people.

Plenary: LGBTQ Youth and the Criminal Legal System

Session: Thursday, October 26, 2017 1:30 p.m.—2:45 p.m.

Presented By: Dr. Carrie Buist, Assistant Professor, School of Criminal Justice, Grand Valley State University
Dr. Emily Lenning, Associate Professor, Department of Criminal Justice, Fayetteville State University

Workshop Overview: This session will introduce the issues facing LGBTQ youth involved in the criminal legal system. Activities and discussion will be used to highlight the over-criminalization of LGBTQ youth and its consequences, and to explore avenues for social justice.

Juvenile Justice Vision 20/20 Training Event

Legal Update

Session: Thursday, October 26, 2017 3:15 p.m.—4:30 p.m.

Presented By: Tonya Krause-Phelan, Professor, Cooley Law School

Tracey Brame, Associate Dean, Cooley Law School

Tonya Krause-Phelan, JD, joined the Cooley Law School faculty in 2005 as a Visiting Professor teaching Criminal Law. She became a full-time Professor at Cooley in 2006. Before joining Cooley, Professor Krause-Phelan worked as both a private criminal defense practitioner and as an Assistant Public Defender with the Kent County Office of the Defender in Grand Rapids. While in private practice, Professor Krause-Phelan served as adjunct faculty for the School of Criminal Justice at Ferris State University, where she taught Criminal Law and Criminal Procedure. During her years in practice, Professor Krause-Phelan lectured on a variety of criminal law topics, including "Junk Science in the Courtroom: Cross-Examining the Child Sexual Abuse Accommodations Syndrome Expert" and "Getting Experts in Court-Appointed Cases." She has also served on the faculty for the Hillman Trial Advocacy Program. Professor Krause-Phelan has served as coeditor and editor of The Informant, a publication of the former Kent County Criminal Defense Bar.

She also has served as editor of Right to Counsel, a publication of the Criminal Defense Attorneys of Michigan.

Tracey Brame, JD, has been a professor at WMU-Cooley Law School since 2006 when she joined the faculty after serving as a staff attorney at Legal Aid of Western Michigan. Tracey is currently the Assistant Dean at the Grand Rapids campus of Cooley where she handles disciplinary matters and works closely with the Dean on projects involving student support, community relations, and campus growth. Tracey also runs the Access to Justice Clinic, where she supervises students who work with ex-offenders on barriers to successful community reentry.

At Legal Aid, Tracey advised and represented low-income clients on family law, housing, and consumer law issues. She also collaborated with other programs to address legal issues faced by ex-offenders re-entering the community, and translated for Spanish-speaking clients.

Previously, Tracey served as a staff attorney for Public Defender Services for the District of Columbia, a research and writing specialist with the Federal Defender Office, and an assistant defender with the State Appellate Defender Office in Detroit.

In addition to her work at WMU-Cooley, Tracey is a member of the board of directors of LINC and Cubmaster for Cub Scout Pack 3206. Tracey is a prior Giants Award Winner, and has served as a Trustee of the Grand Rapids Bar Association, the Grand Rapids Art Museum, and the Grand Rapids Child Discovery Center. She was honored as one of the "2014 Women in the Law" by Michigan Lawyers Weekly.

Workshop Overview: During this plenary session, Cooley Law School Professors Tonya Krause-Phelan and Tracey Brame will provide an update of juvenile justice legal changes from 2016 and 2017, including recent changes to the minor in possession statute and Raise the Age legislation updates and impacts.

Juvenile Justice Vision 20/20 Training Event

Plenary: Building Safety with Families: Recognizing and Affirming S.O.G.I.E. (Sexual Orientation, Gender Identity and Expression)

Session: Friday, October 27, 2017 9:00 a.m.—11:30 a.m.

Presented By: Jessie Fullenkamp, Director of Education and Evaluation, Ruth Ellis Center

Jessie Fullenkamp, LMSW, Director of Education and Evaluation, joined the Ruth Ellis Center in 2010. She led the development and implementation of the first Medicaid billable, LGBTQ specific mental health services in the state of Michigan. Additionally, she directed leadership and advocacy, transgender health and street outreach programs. Recently, she has developed training, education, evaluation and research internally and externally focused on increasing health and safety with diverse SOGIE youth. Fullenkamp has been instrumental in implementing positive youth development, harm reduction, transformative justice and trauma-informed care at the agency.

Jessie studied in Kumasi, Ghana and graduated with a BSW from Xavier University of Cincinnati, Ohio and a MSW from the University of Michigan. Fullenkamp lived and worked in the Federated States of Micronesia on the island of Weno on education, HIV and women's issues. In 2016, Jessie was presented with the "Distinguished Alumni Award" by the University of Michigan's School of Social Work.

Workshop Overview: This presentation will examine at why and how to work with families who have children that identify as lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and questioning (LGBTQ); specifically, in the Child Welfare and Juvenile Justice systems. Participants will be provided with tools for how to contribute to preserving families while building acceptance for LGBTQ youth identity.