You will then see the recordings available

Polling

Polls are great to engage your participants and keep them interested. They have so many uses. You can use a poll that gives participants yes or no as their response choices. You can also select to give participants two, three, four, or five responses to choose from.
1. Open the Collaborate panel.

2. Select Share content.
3. Select Polling.

4. Select the type of poll you want to use.

   If you choose one of the numbered choice polls, participants see numbers as their choices. Tell your participants what each number represents

5. Select Start.

If you want to see how each Participant’s response, or even who hasn't responded, go to the Participants panel.
Session attendance report

The Session attendance report tells you an overview of when participants joined and left your sessions. It also gives you an idea of how long participants were present in the session on average.

If you have used a session more than once, there is a report for each time it was used.

Select View report to see the full report. See when each participant joined and left the session. With this knowledge, you can check in with individual participants to see if they were having any technical issues or need a quick review of what was presented and discussed.

Breakout groups

To facilitate small group collaboration, you can create breakout groups that are separate from the main room and assign participants to them.

Breakout groups requires you use version 52 of the ChromeTM browser.

Breakout groups have their own private audio, video, whiteboard, application sharing, and chat. Any collaboration that takes place in a group is independent of the Main room (and other groups).
Start breakout groups

You can choose to have Collaborate create and randomly assign breakout groups for you. Or you can create the groups yourself.

1. Open the Share Content panel from the Collaborate panel.
2. Select Breakout Groups.
3. Assign groups. Select ‘Randomly’ assign or ‘Custom’ assignment.
   • Randomly assign: Collaborate creates groups and randomly assigns participants for you. Randomly assign is only available when there are four or more people are in the room. o If you want to be in a group, select Include moderators in group assignment. o You can change how many participants are in each group. Select the number of groups from the Number of Groups menu. o If you don't like how the participants are grouped, select Reassign participants.
   • Custom assignment: Create your own groups.
     o Assign participants to a group. You can select the participant’s options menu and select the group. Or you can select Add under the group name and select participants to add them. You can also select the participant and drag them to the right group.
     o Select ‘Create’ a new group to add more groups.
4. Optionally, select Allow participants to switch groups, if you want participants to be able to move to another group on their own.
5. Select Start.

Monitor groups

After breakout groups are started you can move between groups to monitor them. If you assigned yourself to a group, you see and hear what others in the group are doing. This includes any shared content, audio, video, and chat.

If you want to see how the other groups are doing, you need to join those groups.
From the Participants panel, select join group.

Group chats are private to the group. The ‘Everyone’ chat room is open to everyone, no matter what group you are in. As a moderator you also have a moderator only chat room.

Move participants to another group
Moderators can move themselves between groups by selecting Join Group in the participant’s panel. You can also move other participants.

1. Open the participant's options menu from the Participants panel.
2. Select Move to another group. This opens the Breakout groups panel.
3. Move the participant to another group. There are three ways you can do this.
   - Select the participant's options menu and select the group.
   - Select Add under the group name and select participants to add them.
   - Select the participant and drag them to the right group.
4. Select Update.

Can I remove someone from a session?

Yes. You can choose to move them back to the main room or to another group. Or you can choose to remove them completely from a session. Open the participant's options menu from the Participants panel. Select Remove from session.

End breakout groups

When you want to stop breakout groups and bring everybody back to the main room, select End breakout groups. You can find this at the top of the Participants panel or beside Breakout groups in the Share Content panel.

After you select End breakout groups, all participants are moved back to the main room.

After the groups have ended, nothing shared in a group is available in the main room. Give your participants a few minutes warning that you are ending the breakout groups. Give them time to take a screen capture, or record in some other way, what they were working on before ending the groups.
Appendix A

Users can be moderators, presenters, participants, and captioners in the Ultra experience.

Moderator

Moderators have full control over all content being shared. They can make any attendee a presenter or a moderator. Moderators see hand raise notifications and can lower hands. They can remove attendees from a session, but they cannot remove other moderators. Moderators can set the session settings, including deciding what participants can and cannot do.

Presenter

The presenter role is designed to allow students to present without giving them full moderator privileges. Presenters can upload, share, edit, and stop sharing content. They can also see hand raise notifications and can lower hands.

Participant

Participants can enable and disable notifications, such as when attendees enter and leave a session or when someone has posted something to the chat. Moderators decide if participants share audio and video, chat, and draw on the whiteboard or shared files.

Captioner

The captioner role is designed to provide an accessible learning experience for students who are deaf or hard of hearing, as well as for students whose native language is different from the moderator's. An attendee is assigned this role by a moderator. The captioner is given an area to type what is being said. Other participants can view what the captioner is typing in real time. You can have multiple captioners for multiple languages.
