Resources for Discovering Your Major

You are an Exploratory Student... Now what?

As an Exploratory Study Student, you are not alone. Nationally, "undecided" or "exploratory" is the most popular college path. Grand Valley's general education curriculum is designed to provide students exposure to a sampling of academic areas while earning credit towards graduation. GV also provides several other resources to help you discover your path. Read on to learn more!

Exploratory Advising

Each Exploratory Student is assigned a professional Academic Advisor who will:

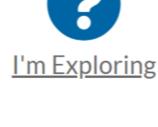

- Help guide you to resources and tools to make an informed major and career decision. · Help you develop a course plan that will include general education requirements and
- exploration courses. • Interpret university policies, procedures, and degree requirements.
- Make you aware of high impact learning experiences and opportunities that will strengthen
- your career path. Identify campus-wide academic support resources such as tutoring and study skills
- development
