Bachelor of Arts in Classics

PLEASE NOTE: In 2015-16 the Department thoroughly revised the curriculum of the program in Classics. Students with a catalog year of 2016-17 and after should follow the revised curriculum as detailed below.

Classics is the study of ancient Greece and Rome, which stand among the world's most exciting, important, and influential civilizations.

GVSU's program in Classics spans the many different aspects of the Greek and Roman world—its languages and literatures, its art and archaeology, its history, its religious and philosophical traditions, its social and legal forms—from the Bronze Age to the period of the late Roman Empire and early Christianity.

For students who pursue a major or minor in the field, Classics provides a broad and solid liberal arts education that will be useful in many careers and vital to the development of their full human capacity.

For students in other disciplines, Classics offers a valuable opportunity to investigate at first hand the works and traditions that have provided much of the intellectual background of their own chosen fields. Many find that working with the classical languages improves their grasp of English and their skills as readers and writers.

Classics courses share an emphasis on encountering the classical world through primary sources, both textual and material. Complementing this emphasis is the study of the living tradition that has shaped—and continues to shape—the ways in which we understand our world today.

Ancient Greek and Latin

Training in the classical languages represents the kind of serious mental rigor and discipline that is an excellent training for a variety of careers.

Greek is the language of Homer and Sappho, of Aeschylus and Aristophanes, of Herodotus and Thucydides, of Plato and Aristotle, and (in its koine or "common" form) of the Christian New Testament.

Latin was the language of ancient Rome. Even after the Roman Empire collapsed, Latin continued as the language of literature, science, philosophy, medicine, law, and religion for over a thousand years: John Milton, Isaac Newton, Baruch Spinoza, and Thomas Aquinas all wrote in the same language as Cicero, Virgil, Caesar, and Plautus.

Career Options

Classics students:

- Profit from a practical education that offers valuable pre-professional training and marketable job skills.
- Acquire and refine analytical and communications skills that make them better able to approach any problem creatively and successfully.
- Distinguish themselves as scholars, work on archaeological excavations, participate in cultural events, demonstrate leadership and committed citizenship, and travel and study abroad.
- Develop the study habits and work ethic needed for success in demanding graduate and professional programs and in real-world careers.

GVSU Classics graduates have gone on to careers as varied as:

- |   |                           |
|---|---------------------------|
| ▪ Public service and nonprofit administration | ▪ Information technology  |
| ▪ Teaching                                    | ▪ Business                |
| ▪ Law   | ▪ Library and museum work |
| ▪ The ministry                                | ▪ Writing and publishing  |

Requirements for a Major in Classics

Students majoring in Classics are required to complete at least 30 credits. They must satisfy the cultural core and language core requirements and select one of three emphases: classical languages, classical studies, or Latin secondary education.

Core Requirements

6-9 credits: 6 in Cultural Core and 0-3 in Language Core beyond fulfillment of the Bachelor of Arts Cognate Requirement.

Cultural Core Requirement (including Capstone):

Students majoring in Classics complete 6 credits of instruction in a sequence of courses intended to introduce them to the interdisciplinary dimension of Classics and to provide detailed instruction in selected methods of inquiry and particular aspects of Greco-Roman civilization.

All Classics majors take:

- CLA 195 - Introduction to Ancient Greece and Rome Credits: 1 ordinarily by the end of their sophomore year
- CLA 395 - Research Methods in Classics Credits: 2 ordinarily by the end of their junior year
- CLA 495 - Notions of the Classics (Capstone) Credits: 3 during their senior year.

Language Core Requirement:

Students majoring in Classics complete Intermediate language study in either ancient Greek or Latin, typically by taking GRK 202 – Intermediate Ancient Greek II Credits: 3 or LAT 202 – Intermediate Latin II Credits: 3.

Those commencing language study typically fulfill the Bachelor of Arts Cognate Requirement through three semesters of study in GRK/LAT 101-102-201 (12 credits).

Others may satisfy these requirements through language placement administered by the Department of Classics; they must nevertheless complete the 30-credit minimum through additional coursework in the major.

Emphases

Classical Languages Emphasis

Minimum of 21 credits beyond completion of the Core requirements.

The classical languages emphasis offers a course of undergraduate study in Classics that stresses the languages and literature of the classical world. Students electing the classical languages emphasis ordinarily study one language (either ancient Greek or Latin) to an advanced level and the other language to at least the intermediate level.

Requirements in addition to the Core requirements:

- At least 18 credits of instruction in ancient Greek (GRK) and Latin (LAT), including at least 6 credits in one language at the 300 level or above.
- At least 3 credits of instruction in any course in Classics (CLA), in HNR 222 - Classical World II Credits: 3, or in an approved substitute.

Classical Studies Emphasis

Minimum of 21 credits beyond completion of the Core requirements.

The classical studies emphasis offers a course of undergraduate study in Classics that investigates Greco-Roman civilization from a range of perspectives and subject areas. Students electing the classical studies emphasis select courses at an advanced level across the program curriculum.

Requirements in addition to the Core requirements:

- At least 15 credits of instruction at the 300 level or above in at least two of the following areas.
  - Archaeology:
    - CLA 350 - Issues in Classical Archaeology Credits: 3. Prerequisite: CLA 250 or HNR 221/222.
  - Cultural Studies:
    - CLA 301 - Re-imagining the Classics Credits: 3. Prerequisite: Junior Standing.
    - CLA 302 - The Stages of Greek and Roman Drama Credits: 3. Prerequisite: Junior Standing.
    - CLA/PHI 311 - Ancient Great Philosophers Credits: 3. Prerequisite: Prior work in philosophy, Classics, or permission of instructor.
    - CLA 315 - Ancient Religion Credits: 3. Prerequisite: WRT 150.
    - CLA/WGS 325 - Body, Gender, Sexuality in Antiquity Credits: 3. Prerequisite: Junior standing.
    - CLA 365 - Stoicism, Identity, and the Happy Life Credits: 3. Prerequisite: Junior standing.
    - CLA 367 - Thinking Like a (Roman) Lawyer Credits: 3. Prerequisite: Junior standing.
  - Ancient Greek (GRK) or Latin (LAT) at the 300 level or above.
- At least 6 credits of instruction in any courses in Classics (CLA), in HNR 221 – Classical World II Credits: 3 and HNR 222 - Classical World II Credits: 3, or in an approved substitute.

Latin Secondary Education Emphasis

Minimum of 21 credits beyond completion of the Core requirements.

The Latin secondary education emphasis offers prospective Latin teachers preparation in Latin comprehension and instruction and in classical civilization at a level consistent with state and national norms. These students work within both the Department of Classics and the College of Education.

While the College of Education is ultimately responsible for overseeing the certification process for students, the Department of Classics is responsible for overseeing the major and for recommending qualified students for admission to the College of Education.

Students with a baccalaureate degree and a major in Classics from another institution can be certified to teach by earning at least three credits of instruction in Latin in the Classics department and completing the professional education requirements of the College of Education. The required courses in Latin must be approved by the department chair or designee.

Requirements in addition to the Core requirements:

- At least 18 credits of instruction in Latin (LAT) at the 300 level or above, 3 of which must be LAT 353 - Latin Prose Composition Credits: 3.
- At least 3 credits of instruction in any course in Classics (CLA), in HNR 222 - Classical World II Credits: 3, or in an approved substitute.

Suggested Order of Coursework for a Major in Classics (B.A.)

The Classics major is designed to be flexible. Declaring Classics as a double major or a minor is an effective way of enhancing one's transcript and drawing the attention of employers and postgraduate programs. In order to ensure timely progress toward graduation, commencing study in either ancient Greek or Latin at an early stage is key.

Prospective majors are encouraged to contact the Department of Classics in order to receive individualized advising. The following is merely a suggestion. Consult your advisor about completing basic skills and general education requirements.

First Year:

- GRK 101 or LAT 101 (4 credits)
- CLA 101 Greek and Roman Mythology (3 credits; general education Philosophy and Literature foundation)
- (Honors students): HNR 211/212 Classical World (6 credits; alternative general education curriculum)
- WRT 150 (3 credits; if required)
- CLA 195 (1 credit)
- GRK 102 or LAT 102 (4 credits)
- CLA 121 Greek Civilization and/or CLA 131 Roman Civilization (3 credits; general education Historical Perspectives foundation)
- (Honors students): HNR 221/222 Classical World II (6 credits; alternative general education curriculum; prerequisite for CLA 350)

Second Year:

- Continue second year of language study: GRK 201 (4 credits) and 202 (3 credits) - or - LAT 201 (4 credits) and 202 (3 credits - fulfills B.A. cognate and general education World Perspectives requirements; fulfills Language Core Requirement)
- Classical languages emphasis: commence first year of study in the second classical language
- CLA 201 (3 credits; general education Philosophy and Literature foundation; Supplemental Writing Skills [SWS])
- CLA 250 (3 credits; general education Arts foundation; prerequisite for CLA 350)

Third Year:

- Classics majors are strongly encouraged to consider spending a semester or academic year in a study abroad program
- CLA 395 (2 credits)
- (Honors students): many CLA 300+ courses are cross-listed as Honors junior seminars
- Classical languages emphasis: continue third year of language study (GRK 300+ or LAT 300+); continue second year of study in the second classical language
- Classical studies emphasis: select elective courses (CLA 300+; 3 credits; many fulfill general education Issues requirements and other requirements)

Fourth Year:

- Classics majors are strongly encouraged to explore opportunities for undergraduate research projects
- Complete CLA 495 Classics Capstone (3 credits)
- Classical languages emphasis, or majors contemplating postgraduate study in Classics: continue language study (GRK 300+/400+ or LAT 300+/400+; 3 credits)
- Classical studies emphasis: select elective courses (CLA 300+; 3 credits; many fulfill general education Issues requirements and other requirements)
- (Honors students): Senior project

Contacting the Department of Classics

The Department of Classics is a unit of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and participates in the interdepartmental Minor in Archaeology. Classics faculty hold joint appointments in the Meijer Honors College and contribute to other programs.

The Department offers a complete preparation for students seeking a wide range of post-graduate and career opportunities. Yet it remains small enough to allow our faculty to get to know all of our students individually and to work with them closely.
