

Winter 2026 – First Semester

In the first semester, your studies focus on the foundations of nursing, including theory, health assessment, and clinical skills. This semester lays the groundwork for your nursing education. Clinical Nutrition and Pathophysiology are also required and must be completed either before or during the term.

Course Details

Here is an overview of your schedule. In the second attachment, you will find your assigned CRNs for each course. You must register only for your assigned courses.

BMS 305, section 02, and BMS 310, section 02, are reserved for students in the nursing program. Everyone who indicated they needed this course in W26 should have received a permit to register, but if you still need a permit please email waremac@gvsu.edu.

If you have BMS 305 and/or BMS 310 completed before the start of this semester, we highly recommend replacing them with a General Education or Honors Course (online asynchronous format is preferred).
