GRAND VALLEY STATE UNIVERSITY®

January 2026

Dear Colleagues,

As we begin a new year and a new semester, I want to extend a warm welcome and my sincere appreciation for the work you do each day in service of our students and communities. The start of a semester is always a moment of possibility—an opportunity to reconnect with our purpose.

This year begins amid a shifting and sometimes challenging federal landscape. While many of these changes are beyond our immediate control, what is within our control is how we show up for our students and for one another. I encourage you to ground yourselves in the values that define our college: care, curiosity, equity, and community partnership.

Mindfulness practices—whether brief moments of reflection, intentional pauses between meetings, or use of campus wellness and employee support resources—can help us stay centered and focused on what matters most: supporting student learning and well-being. I hope you will take advantage of these resources and extend that same sense of care to yourselves.

Thank you for your continued dedication and leadership. I wish you a healthy, focused, and meaningful start to the semester.

With gratitude,

~Sheril Soman
CECI Dean

JUVENILE JUSTICE
VISION 20/20

Juvenile Justice Vision 20/20 (JJV 20/20) celebrated 15 years of service and impact this past December. The organization was launched in 2010 and supported by Dr. Kathy Bailey, professor in the School of Criminology, Criminal Justice, and Legal Studies (SCCJLS) and JJV 20/20 treasurer, as well as the JJV 20/20 executive team of Sandi Metcalf, president; Kevin Bowling, vice president; Dave Pelon '04 CJ, secretary, among many others from the community.

The core mission of JJV 20/20 has been to promote juvenile justice by supporting the effective administration of justice, providing education and training, advocating for sufficient funding, and quality data to maintain an informed, transparent system. The organization has advocated tirelessly for court-involved youth, asserting the need to avoid detention when possible, and employ effective treatment in order to ensure both child well-being and public safety. Their service has taken many forms, all of which has moved juvenile justice forward in Michigan.

Over the past 15 years, JJV 20/20:

- Hosted 45 statewide conferences and webinars, offering education, inspiration, and a sense of shared purpose to practitioners, students, and supporters across the state.
- Convened Michigan's first statewide strategic planning initiative for juvenile justice and juvenile justice data.
- Designed and launched a state-of-the-art, multijurisdictional juvenile justice case management system—complete with the first juvenile justice data dictionary and clear data-sharing agreements to ensure transparency across courts.
- Contributed expertise to numerous state juvenile justice reform committees.
- And built and maintained a website that has become a statewide hub for research, resources, and continuous learning.

The JJV 20/20 executive team did all of this with no budget, no dedicated funding stream, and no paid infrastructure. They were able to secure grants to cover expenses, and are sincerely grateful for the generosity of Grand Valley State University, supportive vendors, and, most importantly, the community. As this chapter comes to a close, JJV 20/20 is excited to see what the future holds in store. Congratulations to Kathy, Sandi, Kevin, Dave, and the entire JJV 20/20 team!

Lorie A. Tuma, associate professor of Hospitality and Tourism Management (HTM/SCLD), was recently appointed as an Auxiliarist in the United States Coast Guard Auxiliary (USCGAUX) — the uniformed, volunteer civilian service component of the U.S. Coast Guard.

Established by Congress in 1939, the USCGAUX supports the U.S. Coast Guard's mission through boating safety education, vessel safety checks, search and rescue support, and community outreach. Auxiliary members volunteer their time and expertise to promote safety, preparedness, and stewardship across America's waterways.

Dr. Tuma completed a rigorous and comprehensive onboarding and qualification process to be accepted into the Auxiliary, including the Basic Qualification Course II, the Auxiliary Core Training series (covering ethics, civil rights, security fundamentals, and workforce readiness), a new-member examination, and required background screening.

Much of this training was delivered online, with additional instruction and service activities conducted through her local Flotilla in Venice, Florida. As an Auxiliarist, Dr. Tuma will support Coast Guard missions while proudly representing GVSU through community-based service and leadership. She has formally identified the United States Coast Guard Auxiliary as the community organization she serves as part of her broader professional commitment to public engagement and civic responsibility at GVSU.

Adrienne Wallace, '05 MPA (SCLD), received the 2025 Michigan Distinguished Professor of the Year Award from the Michigan Association of State Universities. Wallace is an associate professor and the advertising and public relations major coordinator at GVSU, and advisor of numerous student organizations. More about Adrienne Wallace.
