

Dr. Christina M. Ponzio is nominating herself for the at-large seat on the College Curriculum Committee. She holds a PhD in Curriculum, Instruction, and Teacher Education and brings nearly 20 years of experience designing, reviewing, and evaluating curriculum for secondary and post-secondary courses and degree-bearing programs. Her previous experience includes examining scope and sequence to ensure alignment among standards, learning objectives, assessments, and rubrics within and across courses, particularly in relation to accreditation, state approval, and program improvement. With a background in language and disciplinary literacy education, Dr. Ponzio is skilled in navigating curricular conversations across disciplinary communities while attending to coherence and interdisciplinary connections.
