

Jessica Miller, PA-C

“The three great essentials to achieving anything worthwhile is; first, hard work, second, stick-to-it-ivness and third, common sense. “

-Thomas A. Edison

Profile

Throughout my clinical experience I have developed a broad view of the medical field, but have focused on pediatric orthopedics for the last 12 years. I am always looking for ways to excel at every position, which has helped me gain remarkable communication skills and medical knowledge. I am accustomed to work as a team and have good leadership and troubleshooting abilities. I am also flexible and have excellent time management and organizational skills.
