

From mobilizing hot air balloons for aerial surveying in the eighteenth century to the “billionaire space race” of the twenty-first, the way societies and cultures have embraced (or rejected) certain flying machines can reveal a great deal about what they value and why. This course will trace flight technologies and flight cultures across time and space.

FLIGHT IN HISTORY

HST380

M/W 3:00–4:15

Winter 2027

Professor Stein

steinbl@gvsu.edu