CSO Capacity Analysis

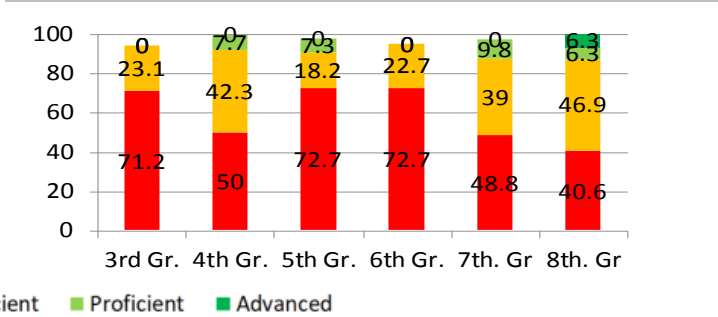

Southwest Detroit Community School (“SWDCS”) has struggled academically, fiscally, and organizationally. Because the school has a “Partnership Agreement” with the Michigan Department of Education, CSO school support staff has worked closely with school leadership and believes that a sense of urgency is needed at the school to rapidly improve school performance. The CSO notes persistent fiscal concerns at the school, which appear to be driven at least in part by the SWDCS’s lease agreement, as well as ongoing negotiations to attempt to resolve these concerns.
