CSO Capacity Analysis

Taylor Preparatory High School has consistently demonstrated strength in its educational program and is organizationally and fiscally sound. The CSO observed that students typically outperform statistically similar schools on the SAT and demonstrate academic growth. The CSO observed that the academy has a strong college-going culture, including a college advising program and a requirement that all students complete at least two Advanced Placement courses to graduate. This evidence provides the CSO with confidence in the academy's capacity to deliver solid academic results during the remainder of its charter contract term.

Summary

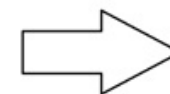

Taylor Preparatory High School began its first year of operation in September 2013 to 9-10 grade students, adding grades yearly until becoming a full college preparatory high school serving grades 9-12 in 2015. The curriculum is designed to not only prepare students to meet the State of Michigan's High School Content Expectations, but also to meet the rigorous expectations of the College Board's Advanced Placement curricula. The academy has built its program based on the following core values: Rigor, Relevance, Relationships, and Responsibility. The academy ensures each graduate successfully completes a minimum of two AP classes, makes successful application to college, and completes 60 hours of community service.

Highlights

Changes were made in the ELA department that created positive results for scholars as ELA NWEA scores increased.

The academy's focus on staff culture was evident this year as employee engagement scores grew by 25 points.

The academy held a Health and Wellness Fair to connect families with local health and wellness organizations. Twenty vendors from nutrition to health and fitness to mental health and aging services participated.
