A large group of diverse students, mostly young adults, are posed on a set of concrete steps in front of a modern brick building with large windows. They are all wearing bright blue t-shirts that have "STUDENTLIFE" printed in large white letters across the chest, with "BECOME MORE" in smaller white letters below it. The students are arranged in several rows, with many of them waving their hands or making peace signs towards the camera. They are all smiling and appear to be in high spirits. The background shows a brick wall and some greenery. The overall atmosphere is energetic and positive.
